Chapter News

Congratulations!

2022 Founders Award Winner

Joshua Kline Joshua was a student at the University of Pittsburgh in the Civil Engineering Department. He was a member of the ASCE and ASHE Pitt Student Chapters, as well as the Vice President and Business Manager of Pitt's ITE Student Chapter. He was honored to be on the Swanson School of Engineering Dean's List.

Joshua graduated last month with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Civil Engineering. He plans to work for AECOM in the Pittsburgh office in the Civil Department and he is excited to see the possibilities improved concrete designs will have on the construction industry and world development.

Lifetime Achievement Award

The 2022 Lifetime Achievement Award was presented to David Thomas. Dave recently retired from Golden Triangle Construction where he worked as the Quality Control Manager for 28 years. Prior to that, he began in the concrete industry working at Beaver Valley Builder's Supply in various QC related positions. Along with Dave's work experience, he has participated in several extracurricular organizations/groups such as the ACI Pittsburgh Chapter (President of the Chapter in 2020-2021 season), American Concrete Paving Association, Pennsylvania Aggregates and Concrete Association, and several PennDOT work groups. He has continuously pursued advancements in concrete technology and his research has helped lead to the implementation of several new specifications/rewrites including PennDOT's new Section 530 (Long Life Concrete Pavement). He is well known throughout the Pittsburgh concrete industry and is highly respected by his peers as a very knowledgeable and quality-oriented practitioner of concrete. Dave's commitment to the concrete industry has been unwavering throughout his career and that is why he was a very deserving candidate of the 2022 Lifetime Achievement Award.
